

LOCAL WELLNESS POLICY

PREFACE

Art's and Technology Academy of Pontiac recognizes and acknowledges that schools cannot achieve their primary mission of education if students and staff are not physically, mentally and socially healthy.¹ The Administration believes that schools should provide an environment where students are taught healthy eating and physical activity knowledge, skills, and values. Also, the environment should provide every opportunity to practice these skills daily. A local school wellness policy is a written document that guides a public-school academy's (PSA) efforts to establish a school building environment that promotes students' health, well-being, and ability to learn. The wellness policy requirement was established by the Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Act of 2004, and further strengthened by the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010 (HHFKA). It is specific to LEAs (local school districts, public school academies, and intermediate school districts), as opposed to School Food Authorities,² that participate in the National School Lunch Program and/or School Breakfast Program. The responsibility for developing, implementing, and evaluating a wellness policy is placed at the local level so the unique needs of each school under the PSA's jurisdiction can be addressed.³
